Dear Gustav Parlow,

in answer to your kind letter from yesterday, I am sorry not being able to find you any time when I may live Russia. — I believe, it must be very difficult for foreigners going to Russia in these moments and stop there. — Perhaps I would not do it myself, no I must return. — I know Toussou (Brussels) very well; he is one of the most remarkable

Violinists and an excellent musician; serious artist. — Reverth in Prague is known as an excellent teacher for technic; personally I know nothing about him. —

But you have at Berlin the greatest master; his name is Joachim! I was his pupil and shall be thankful ^{all my life} to him for his admirable advice. —

In a few months only I should have the possibility to decide my future ~~care~~. —

My best compliments to you and Kathleen. —

Yours truly

Dear Miss Mrs Parlow;
as I promised to give You notice before I return to Russia, so do it now. - I shall be at Petersburg (Anglijsky Prospekt, 26) on Wednesday, 26 Septembre. - I hope You are well

Cateline too and she will not forget all my advices concerning her fiddle as well as your voyage, of course if you always disposed to risk the travelling
to Russia. —
I shall at Vienna

(Austria) Hotel
Tegetthof, Friday and Saturday next.

My best compliments to you and Cateline!

to risk the travelling
to Russia. —
I shall at Vienna
